George Vierhus is on vacation. Guest columnists will fill in during his absence.

By Robert Culp

A FEW DAYS after George Vierhus asked me to be the guest columnist on "Out On A Limb," I had the pleasure to be invited to lunch at Kiwanis and enjoy the fine fellowship, but this particular day was an unusual, rare treat.

The speaker for the day was Mr. Phillip Farley, the United States Government's representative from the Department of State to N.A.T.O., the North American Treaty Organization.

It was most fascinating to meet Mr. Farley and to hear something of N. A. T. O. from one of our top representatives from the Department of State. As many of you know, Mr. Farley is Campbell's most distinguished citizen.

FARLEY graduated from Campbell High School in 1933 and attended the University of California, receiving his masters and doctorate. As I shared the pride of many of his friends and classmates that day, I also thought of other graduates of this fine educational institution located in our city.

The first graduate of Campbell High was Mr. Charles A. Beardsley. He graduated as the only member of the class of 1901. He continued his work at the University of California, and later distinguished himself as an attorney at-law until his death a few years ago.

MR. EMIL MRAK graduated from Campbell High School in 1920. He graduated from the University of California, received his M.A. and his doctorate there, and is now the Chancellor of the University of California at Davis.

A few years ago, we had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Mrak speak at our Honor Banquet at Campbell High. He is a distinguished educator and college president of which the school and this community can be very proud.

Mr. Paul Meyer graduated from Campbell High School in 1946. Within ten years after graduation, he was a millionaire. He now is the president of Success Motivation Institute, a world-wide organization located in Waco, Texas.

His success course is distributed throughout the world in many languages. He often visits his parents living here in Campbell, and he recently made a welcome contribution to our Sports Banquet honoring Craig Morton and Jack Schraub.

WV College buys more acreage in Saratoga

The West Valley College board of trustees has approved purchase of 9.5 more acres of a previously-approved campus site in the southeast corner of Fruitvale and Allendale avenues in Saratoga.

Purchase price, which was set by a superior court jury in a condemnation action brought by the junior college district, was $115,018.50. Legal owner of the 9.5 acre parcel was listed as Mare Novakovich, 14251 Fruitvale Ave., Saratoga.

The purchase brings the total of land acquired at the Saratoga site to 45.2 acres, or 31.6 percent of the 143-acre site. Other condemnation suits, for purchase of the remainder of the acreage, are now pending. Wallace W. Hall, president of the college, predicted that all of the land acquisition for the Saratoga site would be completed by the end of the current academic year.

Bud Tunstall plans to open cocktail lounge

A cocktail lounge is tentatively scheduled to be located at the corner of Sunnyside Ave. and Winchester, Subject to the issuance of an alcoholic beverage license to O. L. (Bud) and Peter B. Tunstall, long-time Campbellites.

At the present time a family residence is located on the property at 2240 Winchester Blvd.

According to the elder Tunstall, the cocktail lounge will be carefully patroled and controlled, and the structure will feature an attractive rock front. He said he felt the new construction would add "a great deal" to the looks of that particular corner. Tunstall indicated he had not received any protests from any other property owners in the immediate area.

The Tunstall family operates "Bud's Service," a Sunland service station at the corner of Alice and Winchester.

Young woman succumbs

The death of Arlene Croop, 23, of 850l Sobrato Dr. Apt. C, Campbell, is being investigated by the County Coroner's office.

The young woman apparently suffered an asthmatic attack. The Campbell Fire Department was called to administer resusitation. She was taken to the Los Gatos-Saratoga Community Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival.

Supervisors offer $125,000 for park site

The County Board of Supervisors has offered the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation District $125,000 for a 10-acre Los Gatos Creek park site. Board Chairman Sig Sanchez said the Water Conservation District directors are willing to sell the parcel near Camden Avenue for that amount. The land sought by the county is next to a seven-acre creekside park site owned by the City of Campbell.

County Public Works Director James T. Potts said a "full set of movements" by autos will be possible since the park will have access to Sunnyoaks Ave., which will have on and off ramps to the San Tomas expressway. At one time, the SCWCD directors wanted as high as $275,000 for the land and the supervisors rejected this price.

September home building down

Five alterations and additions permits were issued during the month of September, in the city of Campbell, with a total valuation of $22,990.

No permits for single, duplex or multiple were issued during the month, and only one commercial permit for $20,000. Permits for the construction of the First Christian Church for a building valued at $64,000 and Eldercare of Campbell, valued at $77,472 were also issued.

According to figures released from the Building Department building activity for the year is only slightly lower than last year at this same time with $4,268,393 building valuation construction so far this year compared to $4,390,460 last year to date.

A total of $1,002.80 in fees for the month was collected by the department.

Police Force has nine Campbell High grads

Nearly every little boy wants to grow up to be a policeman or a fireman, and nine local boys did just that. Of twenty-two officers presently on the force of the Campbell Police Department, nine are graduates of Campbell High School.

What other requirements are necessary to become a police officer? In addition to high school graduation the City of Campbell asks that a man have two years of college work at an accredited school or university, preferably in police science--or two years of satisfactory law enforcement experience. He must be between 21 and 35 and his height can range from 5 ft. 9 to 6 ft. 4.

The position requires that he have a sincere desire to work in the field of Law Enforcement and be able to accept the tremendous responsibility for the lives and welfare of our citizens.

Patrol Sergeant Del Perry graduated from Campbell High School in 1955. He served four years in the United States Air Force. Perry came to the Campbell Police Department in 1961, and was promoted to Sergeant in 1965.

Detective John Bariteau also graduated from Campbell High in 1955. He attended San Jose State College. Bariteau served in the U. S. Army from 1958 to 1961 and was employed as an insurance investigator until he came to the local police force in 1962.

Sergeant Ron Eddlemon, assigned to the detective division, graduated from Campbell High in 1953. He is married and has three children. Eddlemon went to work for the Police Department in 1958. He is a lifetime resident of Campbell and a great grandson of Ben Campbell, pioneer settler of Campbell.

Captain Carl Arnold came to Campbell in 1931. He graduated from Campbell High school in School in 1941. Arnold started his career with the Police Reserves in 1953 and joined the regular force in 1954. He became a Sergeant in 1958, a Lieutenant in 1961 and was promoted to Captain in 1964. Arnold is married and has two children.

Officer Vernon Lunt graduated from Campbell High School in 1956. He started with the Campbell Police Dept. in 1962 and served as a patrolman and traffic officer. He is presently on reserve status with the United States Coast Guard. Lunt is married and has two children.

Traffic Officer Alan Knox graduated from Campbell High School in 1958. He served in the Coast Guard and worked for the Santa Cruz Police Dept. for eight months. Knox came to the Campbell Police Dept. in 1962 and is presently employed as a motocy ployed as a motorcycle officer. He is married and has two children.

Officer Tom Clark also attended Campbell High School and played on the football team. He attended Fresno State College and later joined the U. S. Marine Corps. He worked for the Barstow Police Dept. for four years and came back to live in Campbell in 1964. Clark is a traffic officer.

Officer Larry Newland granduated from Campbell High School in 1955. He worked as a machinist and attended night school at San Jose City College. Newland served in the Army Reserve and was on active duty during the Berlin crisis. He joined the local police department in 1963. He is married and has two children.

Sgt. Paul Schommer graduated from Campbell High in 1953. He is a Navy veteran, having served four years. Schommer served on the United States Border Patrol and joined the Campbell Police Force in 1959. He was appointed Sergeant in 1963. Sgt. Schommer received a Red Cross commendation from Washington D.C. for his heroic rescue of a local man from a structure fire. Sgt. Schommer expects to be married the first of next year.

San Tomas Village expansion okayed

The application of the Smith family for a zone change to expand their existing commercial development, San Tomas Village Shopping Center, was approved 5 to 2 by the Planning Commission at Monday night's meeting.

Sal Liccardo, attorney for the Smiths, indicated the property owners would proceed immediately with the construction of the second unit, which would house a variety and hardware store.

The third and larger unit would be constructed when "economically feasible." He told the Planners that a bank branch, clothing store, and other necessary shopping facilities would be added to make this a "one stop" center for residents of the San Tomas area.

The majority of the Planners acted against the advice of Planning Director Richard V. Hogan, who had recommended that the zone change from R-1 to C-1-S be turned down, on the premise that the shopping center at the corner of Elam and San Tomas Rd. is not located on a main artery and would create a traffic problem. The logical location for a shopping center would be on a four lane artery such as Hacienda Ave. and San Tomas Rd., he pointed out.

Liccardo told the Planners that the Smiths would be willing to dedicate a portion of the frontage of their property to the City for an extra traffic lane in order to ease the traffic flow.

The additional units would make a total of 36,000 sq. ft. for the shopping center. The Planners who voted against the zone change were James A. Tomlinson and Frank Klein, who argued that the expansion of the Center would only delay the overall San Tomas Development Plan

Absentee applicant chastised

The absence of trailer sales operator James Baker for the second time from the Planning Commission meeting while his application for a zone change was under consideration caused some ire among Planners Monday night.

Commissioner John B. Healey said he was "fed up with Baker being elsewhere while we dicuss matters of importance to him." Baker was reported to be attending a trailer sales convention in Las Vegas this week.

He has applied to the Commission for a change of zone from R-1 to R-3-S on the rear portion of his property located on South Bascom Ave. The application also includes a zone change for the adjoining Van Sickle property.

Baker has been operating his business under a legal variance for some years. The existence of this variance has caused some consternation among the City Planners.

Commissioner Harry A. Lee requested a motion to "express the intent of this Commission" by acting on the Van Sickle property only, (two lots) and continuing the hearing on the Baker property until the next meeting.

The Van Sickle application for the zone change from R-1 to R-3-S was unanimously approved and the Baker application was continued.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Sugar, one of our most basic commodities, is taken for granted by most Americans unless it is in short supply. But to Members of Congress it is responsible for one of the most complicated pieces of legislation they must periodically consider--the all-important Sugar Act.

In recent years sugar legislation has been responsible for two all-night closing sessions of Congress, intense lobbying by foreign governments, and some of the bitterest debates in history. The State Department considers the Act a cornerstone of our foreign policy and it involves a delicate balance between domestic producers of sugar and dozens of other countries who vie for a share of the more lucrative U.S. market.

The history of the Act shows that regulation of the sugar market by law is in most everyone's best interest. Even a staunch advocate of free enterprise and opponent of regulation must admit that without it we could be cut off from supplies during time of war and the price of sugar could fluctuate wildly.

The regulation of production to keep it in balance with consumption and to allocate quotas between foreign and domestic producers has resulted in remarkable stability in sugar prices, plus a guaranteed supply. Before the law, sugar reached a price as high as 26.7 cents per pound in 1920 and never went below 5.2 cents per pound until 1937.

Since then it has increased very little and, in fact, present U.S. prices are about 5 cents below the median price in 121 nations around the globe. The price of refined sugar from 1938 to 1961 did not quite double, while the wholesale price of all other foods rose from an index of 93 to 222. Related to the price of all other foods, sugar actually dropped from 2.82 cents in 1939 to 4.15 cents per pound in 1961.

In addition, the Sugar Act has netted a profit to the U.S. Treasury since 1937 of $450 million. This was the difference between Sugar Act payments to domestic producers and the amount of duty imposed upon foreign imports.

It is often stated that since the world market is well below the U.S. price, the American consumer in subsidizing the domestic sugar grower, but this is not the case. Without a Sugar Act we could not support a domestic industry and the United States, the world's largest user of sugar, would be forced to compete in the world market.

Obviously we could not purchase sugar from Communist Cuba and other bloc countries, and this would further limit the supply. Stability of the sugar market would be upset and we could again be paying more than 20 cents per pound as we did in 1920.

The Sugar Act recognizes unique circumstances, including the fact that we cannot produce domestic sugar at economic prices. Under these circumstances and considering its strategic importance, regulation of sugar production is essential. The Sugar Act, though controversial, is sound and fortunately has been soundly administered.

HAILS SAN TOMAS VILLAGE

Dear Sir:

We wish to place some facts before the people of the San Tomas area in regard to a shopping center which is to be found at the corner of San Tomas-Aquino Rd. and Elam St. A shopping center has really been in existence here since 1946 when a grocery store was started. This formed the nucleus for the present center which is known as "The San Tomas Village."

About this time the San Tomas Improvement Club was formed. This organization has been responsible for acquiring many improvements which have made life more comfortable for the residents of this community.

The roads which were dirt at that time have been black-topped. This was one of the earliest projects to be worked for. Obtaining enough signatures to secure a Post Office was another project. Furthermore, this club was instrumental in getting bus service for the residents of this section. After two houses were burned, the people became aware of the dire need for a local fire department. Through the efforts of the members of this club, enough money was obtained by going from door to door to build a fire house. The Central Fire Department then gave us a fire truck. So now we have an adequate fire department. The need of street lights then became apparent and again the people under the leadership of the Improvement Club banded together and through this co-operative effort, street lights were obtained. Another project which the Club was interested in was the installation of sewers for those homes desiring them.

Recently the San Tomas Village was incorporated into the city of Campbell, thus leaving very little area which is exclusively in the County.

Besides all the improvements mentioned above, a new shopping center came into existence in the summer of 1962. Already this "San Tomas Village" has plans underway to expand which will bring new types of stores to adequately meet the demands of a growing community. The following businesses are to be found in our shopping center:

The San Tomas Post Office; The San Tomas Cleaners; The San Tomas Shoe Shop; The San Tomas Beauty Salon; The San Tomas Barber Shop; Notary and Realty Republic; The San Tomas Market; Sunland Service; The San Tomas Bicycle Shop; Texaco Service; The San Tomas Bottle Shop; Restaurant; Dutch Washer Laundramat; Dr. Allen Harada (Dentist); San Tomas Pharmacy; The Southern Baptist Church.

Recently our Post Office, which has been a part of our community for 19 years, was moved to another location. Immediately petitions were circulated and enough signatures were secured to warrant bringing the Post Office back to us.

Looking back over the past 19 or 20 years, we as homeowners, feel that through the combined efforts of the residents of San Tomas we have achieved the various improvements which have served to make our "Village" a happier and more pleasant place in which to live. Thanks to the interested and enterprising people of this community, this growth is continuing.

We truly feel that these are the facts regarding the businesses of this area and the very excellent shopping center in our neighborhood.

Thanks to the Editor.

Yours truly,

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. There have been recent news reports that some elderlv people have been tricked, by individuals posing as social security agents, into paying in advance for Medicare benefits. What can a person do to protect himself against such swindles?

A. An elderly person --or anyone for that matter--should beware of any individual who claims to be a social security representative and then asks for money to perform a service such as signing you up for the Medicare program. Such a person is acting illegally. If someone offers to sign you up in this manner, ask for his identification. If he is really a social security representative, he will be happy to present proof of his identity. If you still have doubts about him, call your Social Security Office and ask if they sent the man to see you.

Q. Most people think of social security only in terms of benefits in old age, but the 1965 amendments seem to affect many young people. Who is eligible for the new benefits for students?

A. Under the new law, an unmarried full-time student between the ages of 18 and 22 may receive social security cash benefits if he has a retired, disabled, or deceased parent who qualified for social security benefits. Up until now, a child's benefits stopped automatically at age 18 unless the child was disabled. Now he can continue to get cash benefits if he attends almost any accredited high school, college, or vocational school and takes a normal workload of classes to complete his studies. So, if you were getting on either of your parent's social security accounts up to your 18th birthday, you can start getting them again if you are in school or plan to go back, are under 22 unmarried. And if you were already 18--too old to qualify for child's benefits--when one of your parents retired, became disabled, or died--now you, too, are eligible for student benefits under the law if you are in school full-time, under 22, and still unmarried.

When and how do you sign up? If you think you qualify, check with your Social Security Office right away for details.

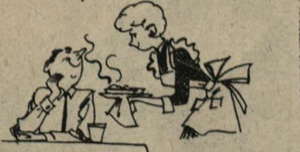
Pumpkin Chiffon Pudding

Favorite recipes



When the frost is on the pumpkin, it's just the right time to put delectable Pumpkin Chiffon Pudding on the menu. The dessert is an airy pumpkin chiffon mixture, fragrant with spices, that is turned into a shell of graham cracker crumbs. Thanks to its content of unflavored gelatine, the pudding requires little cooking - only the few minutes needed to dissolve the gelatine. This fluffy dessert will top off a hearty cold-weather meal in rousing fashion.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON PUDDING

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup water
3 eggs, separated
1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/3 cup melted butter or margarine

Mix gelatine, 1/2 cup brown sugar, salt and spices in saucepan. Stir in milk, water and egg yolks. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in pumpkin. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Fold into gelatine mixture. Combine crumbs and melted butter; line 8-inch square dish. Turn in pumpkin mixture. Chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream. YIELD: 9 servings.

Drivers needed to transport cancer patients

Drivers are needed to transport cancer patients for treatment, according to Robert A. Hersch, MD, chairman of the Campbell unit of the American Cancer Society. Many cancer patients who can otherwise live at home are not able to provide their own transportation for treatment, according to Dr. Hersch.

To help these patients, the Cancer Society has a volunteer transportation corps. Anyone who can spend an occasional few hours driving patients to San Jose or Palo Alto for treatment is asked to call Mrs. H. E. Lillingston, local service chairman for the Cancer Society, at 378-2772.

For those unable to drive, many other volunteer opportunities are open, Dr. Hersch added.

Five year licenses issued to those who come early

If your driver's license expires in the next six months, a trip now to the Department of Motor Vehicles may add one year to the term of your next license.

According to Tom Bright, director of Motor Vehicles, licenses renewed before January 1 will be issued for five-year terms. But because of a new law, licenses renewed after the first of the year will be issued for four-year terms.

"The bonus to drivers with expiring licenses is possible because of a provision allowing the department to renew drivers' licenses up to six months early," Bright said. This means a person whose license expires in March, can come in now and be issued a five-year license expiring in March 1971. However, if he applies in March for a renewal license, he will be issued a four-year license which will expire in 1970.

Bright said his department is encouraging eligible drivers to renew their licenses early to relieve the future double workload of license expirations. He estimates that about one million drivers are eligible to take advantage of the early renewal provision.

Campbell Drugs keeps pace with times over ten year period

CAMPBELL DRUGS--Grand opening--1955

Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, located in the Campbell Shopping Center, Winchester at Latimer, has not changed its location in the past 10 years.

But that is about the only thing about the store that hasn't been changed in its successful operation during the past decade.

The appearance of the store today, with the completion of an extensive remodeling program, is vastly different than it was in 1955 when it opened for business in what was then the first shopping center in town.

When Campbell Drugs opened in 1955, under the ownership of L. E. (Bill) Means and the late Mrs. Dan Clark, the store was rated as the most modern in the Santa Clara Valley. Today the store still claims that honor.

Under the direction of Means, who acquired full ownership some years ago, the store has kept pace with modern merchandising methods.

The complete "rejuvination" of the store which has just been completed included the installation of new fixtures, the expansion of departments, interior painting, new lighting, and enlarging merchandising space. In fact the entire store has been revamped for the convenience of the shopping public.

An outstanding feature of the remodeling was the expansion and modernization of the cosmetic department. Here soft lighting, lush carpeting and new fixtures have made this section of the modern store a mecca for the ladies.

The candy and card and gift departments have also been expanded and new fixtures added. Even the prescription department has undergone a "face-lifting".

Means is justifiably proud of the advancement of Campbell Drugs in the past 10 years and maintains that his desire is to keep the store a leader in modern shopping methods in the future.

Dick Scholten and bride to reside in Campbell

Newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fred Scholten are now residing in Campbell following their recent marriage at the Sunnyvale Seventh Day Adventist Church.

Wedding vows were exchanged at the 8:30 evening service with the Elder James Cooper of Mt. View officiating. The former Miss Jane Ella Marshall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall of Sunnyvale while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Scholten of Campbell.

A floor length A-line gown with cowl neckline made of crepe was chosen by the bride with a train flowing from the shoulders. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a flower band and she carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Cyndie Marshall, sister of the bride, wore a floor length empire style gown of pink crepe, and carried a cascade of pink carnations as she attended her sister as maid of honor.

Pink velvet and crepe, floor length empire style gowns were worn by bridesmaids Miss Karen Olson and Miss Nancy Turner with Kathy Marshall and Sandra Turner, flower girls in matching gowns, as were candlelighters Susan Marshall and Bible bearer Lorrie Turner. Also serving as a candle lighter was David Scholten, brother of the groom.

Best man Gary L. Jensen, and ushers Ron Stump, Terry Schuffenecker, Cliff Wallace and Rick Turner completed the wedding party.

During the ceremony organ music was played by Steven Denmark with Eral Johnson as soloist.

A reception for 250 guests followed the ceremony in the reception rooms of the church.

BUC BANTER

BY
KNOWLES

"We are the Bucs, the mighty, mighty Bucs." . . . On Friday October 15, this was heard as Campbell High held it's first spirit rally of the 1965-66 school year.

On October 12, 13, and 14 were held the Freshman Parent Coffee Hours. The Coffee Hours, held between 9:30-11:00 A. M., were for the purpose of getting the Freshman Parents "acquainted with the school." The first half hour was spent in general meeting, while the remainder was spent touring the campus.

With a few changes being made in the cast, rehearsals for the Senior play are going smoothly. "Teahouse of the August Moon" will be presented November 4, and 5 in the Campbell High School auditorium at 8:00 P.M. Proceeds from the play will provide the Senior class with enough money to finance their Senior Ball and Senior Sneak day.

The P. T. A. membership drive ended Friday Oct. 15, with the Junior class taking first place in amount of memberships sold.

October 25-29 is Twirp Week at Campbell. During Twirp Week the girls become slaves to the boys (what?). And the week will be topped off by the annual Twirp Dance, a girl ask boy affair.

Anyone happening to pass the choir room during second period shouldn't be too surprised at hearing the strains of sweet Christmas Carols. The choir is busy working on music for forthcoming public appearances and school appearances.

Miss Cassie Taul's journalism class is holding a trial. Jed Rumple (Tom Hudec) is to be tried for stealing a Rembrandt painting from his own gallery to collect the insurance. The trial is fun for all as Miss Taul or the students make up characters, plot, setting, etc. At the end of the trial the students will have compiled a set of notes and stories of the trial. From this they will lay out a newspaper.

Campbell High School's Hall of Fame should be ready for viewing within the next few weeks. Robert Culp and Mary Knowles are working together on this project.

WARRIOR WARBLE

BY
WYCKOFF

IT HAPPENED ON the twenty-fourth,
A cold September day;
The Westmont Team was out to win;
They needed a successful play.

For one whole year the Westmont Team,
Lost each and every game;
But they used up a lot of steam,
To give their school a name.

But as I said, on this special day
Of nineteen-sixty-five
Our brave and mighty football team
Was very much alive!
They won a mighty victory.
For beloved Westmont High;
Our very first successful game,
That wasn't a loss or tie!

Now all the Westmont Warriors,
Are very proud indeed;
For now their school is the very best,
And may forever lead!

"Our First Victory", the poem seen above was written by Linda VanKirk, a Junior at Westmont. Linda's poem really reflects the pride that the Warriors feel for their school and football team!

KAMPUS KAPERS

The Senior class of Westmont formed a consipiracy, so-to-speak, and jokingly voted Beethoven's 5th Symphony in C minor as their favorite KLIV tune for the week.

The Senior Play is progressing nicely, and Miss Hall feels that the show will be a great success.

The class rings for the upper classmen arrived last Thursday. Many Juniors are wearing lovely new rings.

WARRIORS OF THE WEEK

Jane Carlson
Linda Dye

Jane Carlson is a Sophomore this year, and it is the first time she has ever attended a public school. During her elementary years Jane attended West Valley S.D.A. Last year she went to Monterey Bay Academy, a coed boarding school in Monterey.

Jane was chosen this week along with Linda because of her extremely original idea for a bulletin board in Mr. Slavit's English class. The bulletin board is the talk of the school. Done in multi-colored letters, Jane and Linda have picked out the most important school rules and put them together in a wild and wackey way.

Jane's hobbies are German, which she loves, singing and playing the guitar with her brother Jack, and Dan Molinary, and collecting china horses.

Jane wants to be a Lawyer or a Court Stenographer. She first got the idea from watching Perry Mason when she was in grammar school.

Jane has a sister who is ten and her brother Jack, who is eighteen, Jack, who is eighteen and a Senior at Mountain View Academy.

Linda Dye is also a Sophomore at Westmont this year. Linda was born in Pheonix, Arizona. She is an only child, but she is hardly lonely. She loves to dance, read, and go to "slumber-parties" where "they make you walk on spaghetti." She is active in Rainbow Girls, and was an officer last year.

English and Science are Linda's favorite subjects, and football and baseball are her favorite sports.

Linda plans to attend college at U.C.L.A., she wants to be a Legal Secretary, or major in English Literature. At present however, her chief goal is to learn to water-ski. All-in-all, Linda is a very normal sixteen year old.

New Moreland School trustee

Norman K. Howery was recently appointed by the Moreland School District Board of Trustees to complete the unexpired term of Richard Penrose who resigned due to a change in residence. Howery will complete the term begun by Penrose which runs until the end of June 1968.

Howery is 37 years old and has lived on Northlawn Court in the Moreland School District since 1958. He is married and he and his wife Marlene have three boys, Chris who is eleven, Jeff who is seven and Todd who is six. They all attend Gussie Baker School.

Howery has been with I. B. M. since 1957 and currently is serving as a project engineer. He graduated with a B.S.-E.E. degree from the University of Washington.

In making the appointment to the Board, Chairman Eugene Riordan indicated appreciation to the many fine community members who had applied for the position.

Entertains sorority

Mrs. David Hemphill, 2115 Anthony Dr. will entertain the members of Psi Rho chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Thursday evening, Oct. 21. Co-hostesses will be Mesdames James Hoffman and Thomas Cunningham. A program, "Her Crowning Glory" will be presented by Mrs. Sam Barredo.

Buc Frosh-Soph tromps Leigh; Blackford next?

Campbell's Soph-Frosh football team, sparked by the passing of Chuck Hawthorne and the receiving of end Stan Hedegard, stomped the Leigh Longhorns by a score of 27-0. Stan caught two touchdown passes from Chuck.

The other Campbell touchdowns came on runs. Dick Perry, a Campbell back, scored on a run.

Then, in the final quarter, Chuck Hawthorne intercepted a Longhorn pass and ran it all the way back for a touchdown.

Campbell's final two points came on a safety. Defensive lineman Don Silva broke through the line and tackled the Longhorn back in the end zone.

Throughout the season, Campbell's fine defensive team has allowed but one touchdown. One of Campbell's finest defensive players is Don Silva. In preceding games, Don has fallen on several fumbles and scored two touchbacks.

Campbell faces Blackford this week. The "B's" play on Thursdav and Varsity plays on Friday. Both games will be held at Campbell and will begin at 3:30 P. M.

Senior parents urged to attend workshop

It's no secret to either students or counselors that a successful senior high school year is the result of a great deal of preparation and work. Senior parents usually know that much, but their knowledge ends there. .and because they don't know exactly what that preparation and work entails, they are often unable to give the student and his counselor the full cooperation that is so vital.

Campbell High has decided that it's about time the Senior parents had a chance to get into the act, and the result is the first Senior Parent Workshop, scheduled for tonight, (Wednesday) Oct. 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafetorium.

During the course of the evening, Senior Counselor, Mrs. Marye Parker, assisted Winston Miller, Junior Counselor, will attempt to answer some of the questions that inevitably arise concerning a student's senior year. Colleges, scholarships, business schools, and job opportunities for graduates will all be discussed, as will many of the problems concerning the actual school year and graduation.

No parent who is sincerely interested in the education of his son or daughter can fail to participate in the senior year. The Senior Parents Workshop is the best and simplest way of finding out the "how" and "why" of the senior year while there's still time.

BLACKFORD BEAT

BY DIANE GIPSON CAROL COOK

The Blackford football season is well underway now as the Braves met Del Mar on Blackford's turf last Friday. Blackford's season record now goes to 1-2 as the Braves gave way to a 6-0 defeat. It was a close game, but Del Mar finally emerged the victors on Rick Peryum's one-yard sneak.

Blackford's Frosh/Soph football team also lost last week to Del Mar by a score of 6-0.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance to which the girls invited the boys was a big success. There was a big turnout and everyone seemed to agree that it was alot of fun. The Nightcaps, a local combo, entertained at the dance.

Concerning up-coming events at Blackford, Wednesday, October 20, the Freshman Reception will be held in the Cafetorium at 8:00. All Freshman Parents are urged to attend. On Thursday, October 21, our Frosh/Soph football team plays Campbell on Campbell's field at 3:00. Also on the 21, our C & D Basketball team plays Camden in Blackford's gym at 3:30. Friday, October 22, our Varsity Football team plays Campbell at Campbell.

There has always been quite a lot of rivalry between Blackford and Campbell so everyone get out and support your team.

The Student Body Card sales are coming to a close now. The Freshmen lead with 76%, but the Seniors follow close behind.

The student council is trying to get permission to put a totem pole in the plaza to boost spirit. Everyone is behind them in their efforts.

Campbell varsity faces Blackford at home Friday

The Campbell High Bucs, coming off a 19-7 loss to Watsonville, lost a close game to the Leigh Longhorns by the score of 20-19.

All of Campbell's touchdowns came in the first half; two passes and a run.

The first touchdown came on a ten yard pass from Paske, the quarterback, to halfback Mike Weber.

Campbell's second touchdown; a seven yard pass to flankerback Don Hahn, came late in the first quarter. Don turned in a fine performance, intercepting a pass and running back a point.

Campbell's final touchdown was on a 15 yard run by Gary Paske.

The one thing that hurt Campbell most was the point-after-touchdown. If Campbell had scored one more point-after, the game would have been tied. If she'd scored all "PAT's", Campbell would have won the game.

Campbell takes on Blackford, this week, at the Buc's home park. The game will start at 3:30 P. M.

Miss Kathy Davis of Saratoga served as maid of honor and Miss Donna Scott, the bride's sister, was the bridesmaid. They both wore matching pale orchid gowns and carried bouquets of white carnations and orchid passion flowers.

Mike Hern stood with his friend as best man and Donald Norman and Ronnie Munson ushered.

A reception for over 100 guests was held in the church hall. A three tiered wedding cake was cut by the happy couple. On her wedding trip to Carmel the bride was attired in a Royal blue mohair suit to which she pinned a white orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Munson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo D. Scott of 12511 Paseo Flores, Saratoga. She is a graduate of Westmont High School and is a student at Campbell Beauty School. MAKE YOUR GARMENTS WATER REPELLENT NOW

by John D. Cooper

Lord bless us, but the rains are here again, and the next one we're caught in will probably find us either minus a raincoat or wearing one that soaks through.

The answer, of course, is treatment with a water repellent.

First off, let's clear up a couple of things. Nothing you wear should be 100% "water proof" If it were, it wouldn't be porous and so, uncomfortable

Again, water repellents aren't 100% permanent. They wear off after a while. But they can be applied and reapplied.

Next, no water repellent will "stick" unless the garment is throughly spotted and cleaned beforehand.

Another thing: Water repellents are often used on garments which cannot be considered as rain-protective apparel, not by any stretch of the imagination. You see, they give materials greater body, retard wrinkling, delay absorption of moisture so that the garment will retain good appearance longer, and improve the shape, drape or hang of a garment. On top of that, they protect cloth against spots and stains.

Treated with a water repellent, material is less likely to stain permanently. Stains find it more difficult to penetrate the very fibers of such a fabric.

So all in all it's a good idea right now to

WHAT'S DOING?

How do you string telephone wire under a customer's house when the space between ground and floor is only 18 inches? It was the customer's pet beagle to the rescue! After tying the wire to the dog's collar, the customer went to the other side of the house as the telephone man put Buster in the small opening. At the sound of "Here, Buster," the beagle, dragging the wire behind him, scooted through to his master—and the job was done!

Memories are made of this... electronic memories anyway. This brain cell provides "memory" for a new telephone switching system which someday will make it possible for you to set up conference calls yourself, use abbreviated numbers for calls you make often and to have your incoming calls transferred to another number. Improvement of your service is our chief concern. And improvement means change... in equipment and techniques. Every change is aimed at giving you better phone service at reasonable cost.

Long Distance calling has really become convenient and fast these days. Most places are only seconds away when you dial direct... a far cry from the time when a call from coast to coast had to be relayed from operator to operator and took several minutes. With today's Direct Distance Dialing, calls are completed in seconds. You'll find a list of Area Codes and other Long Distance calling tips in the front of your Campbell phone book.

MINISTERS OF VENGEANCE,
a novel by Robert E. Conot

The story of a kidnaping, done almost on the spur of the moment by two inept, would-be gangsters.

But once it is accomplished, events assumed the cast of inevitability, and build, step by ominous step to a crescendo of violence.

WITH EVERY BREATH YOU TAKE
by Howard R. Lewis

With the necessary and unnoticed act of breathing, you inhale pollutants into your body. These impurities threaten your health, may cause cancer, heart failure, asthma, bronchitis, nausea, eye trouble, diarrhea, and a host of other ailments and disturbances.

Moreover, polluted air can overwhelm an entire community and take a death toll of thousands. These are the statements of cold fact, verified by the research of the United States Public Health Service and other foremost authorities. Yet most of the public is unaware or unmindful of the danger.

THE MEMOIRS OF AN AMNESIAC
by Oscar Levant.

In this wickedly witty and thoroughly unconventional autobiography, Oscar Levant, one of America's most celebrated raconteurs, musicians, actors and wits, tells literally all. These are the Memoirs which the countless thousands of Levant devotees have been awaiting, the long-overdue successor to his best selling "A Smattering of Ignorance".

This is the book in which Levant recounts for the first time his long battle with drugs and doctors. Here too are chapters on his youth, his Tin Pan Alley, Information Please, and Hollywood days, as well as his TV and concert hall experiences. There has never been a book remotely like MEMOIRS OF AN AMNESIAC; nor for that matter, has there ever been a man quite like Oscar Levant.

The $13 billion spent last year on highway improvement in the United States was paid for entirely by the nation's motorists.

West Valley meets Menlo

West Valley will continue conference action next Friday afternoon at Buck Shaw Stadium when they host the Menlo College eleven.

The Vikes evened their season's record at 2-2 last Saturday as they handed Marin a 12-6 setback at Kentfield. Quarterback Larry Daniels, making his second start of the season, showed why he was named All-Central Coast at Leigh last year, as he fired two touchdown passes and was strong on the ground.

Marin jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the second quarter and held that lead at halftime. However, the Vikings came back strong in the second half as Daniels hit Ron Carrothers for their first score and Ken Ayers for their second TD. Backs Earl Freitas and Bob Magrino were outstanding for the Vikes in the rushing department. Coach Bob Jones commented that this was the best running game the team has had all season.

Women's Sports begin at WVC

At West Valley College, Mrs. Joan Sarlo (Physical Education instructor) heads the "Women's Athletic Association" on campus.

The association is chartered as a club at WVC. In its constitution, it states that it aims to promote interest in sports among women, provide ideals for sportsmanship, and establish team cooperation and organized competition.

WAA provides such sports as volleyball, golf, badminton, tennis, and archery. These sports (along with bowling, fencing, and swimming) are offered competitively in monthly co-educational "Sports days." Ten colleges from Salinas to Marin are involved in these activities. The "sports days" are set for the following dates and places:

Oct. 23--at Monterey Peninsula College; Nov. 6--at City College of San Francisco; Feb. 12--at Hartnell (basketball for women only); Feb. 26--at the College of San Mateo; March 19--at Cabrillo; April 23--at Merritt; May 7--West Valley and San Jose City Colleges will jointly sponsor a "sports day" with activities on both campuses; May 21--at Foothill.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Sarlo and president Cheryl Flynn, this promises to be an actively interesting year for members of West Valley College's Women's Athletic Association.

Meet one of our investment managers

The average Kaiser Aluminum employee is "investment manager" of about $38,000—the amount of capital it takes to create a job in the aluminum industry these days.

The way we look at it, they go together, the investment and the worker: it takes the investment to produce the job...but it also takes the worker to make the investment productive!

Neither of them would be located here if they didn't have confidence that this is a good place to live and to work. Together, they share in the growth and prosperity of this community.

Word from Berlin

European travel notes

By George Vierhus

BERLIN..10/3/65--Crowded sidewalks, crowded stores and rushing traffic past the most modern buildings in the world indicate graphically just how far this city has progressed in the two decades since the end of World War II.

The "new" Berlin that has arisen from the rubble of the war years utterly amazes this gawking American tourist.

And we know it is a "new" Berlin, for we have stood on the "mountain" outside the city that is made from the "old" Berlin. It is a man-made mountain of rubble, the remains of the Berlin that was virtually destroyed by allied bombers. The rubble was carted from the city, dumped into a valley and today the valley has become a hill. It will eventually become a recreational center with ski slopes and the whole bit.

This is an amazing city, this West Berlin. Yet despite its progress and its "newness", the memories of the war years still remain vivid, for there is also an East Berlin.

We saw the "wall" which divides the two cities. In fact we saw it from many different angles. And the picture was always the same, one of stark contrast. The drabness, the bleakness, the tenseness of the situation across the wall was so apparent even at first glance that it left a pall on all of us.

West Berlin is a modern city in every respect. Colorful apartment buildings and blossoming flower gardens even make the contrast more startling backed up against the drabness of the other side.

West Berlin is bustling at all hours of the day and night. Of course, the weather may have had something to do with it. But those milling throngs promenading on the wide sidewalks, storming the stores that are filled with merchandise, or eating and drinking in the many bistros, give evidence that the West Berliners have come a long way in 20 years. And they are going even further.

The balmy weather apparently was all that was needed for the residents of this isolated city to turn out in force. At 10:30 at night, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, the three nights we were in the town, the sidewalks were packed.

And when the girls wanted to do their shopping on Saturday, the stores were jammed with customers.

Through the courtesy of a high-ranking U.S. army officer a car and driver were provided for us on Sunday for a tour of West Berlin.

The first stop was the "wall"...then lunch from the restaurant in the "Telefunken" transmission tower which gave us a panoramic view of the city. We viewed the Olympic stadium where the 1936 Olympics were held and where we saw the list of winners on the walls and also recalled how Hitler used to orate and harangue to the shouting mobs that filled the same stadium.

We arrived in West Berlin at the famous Templehof air field in the evening on Friday from Copenhagen. There are no direct flights from Copenhagen so we had to transfer at Hamburg. Because of a delay caused by refueling and defueling of the plane we were taking to Hamburg we missed our connection in that city. But we managed to get on a later flight.

As we write this, our first week in Europe has almost been completed. So far the weather has been completely on our side. We have yet to use our top coat.

Our stay in Copenhagen was outstanding and we were sorry that we had not scheduled more time in that delightful city. But we have a lot of ground still to cover.

An interesting personal sidelight took place at the colorful changing of the guard ceremony in Copenhagen. We ran across a couple we hadn't seen for 13 years.

So we meet on the parade ground of the royal palace in Copenhagen.

Quite a far piece from California.

But the world has shrunk in the last few years.

This is one thing we have really learned.

English Channel

ON THE ENGLISH CHANNEL--10/8/65--Touring Europe in your own car has many advantages, especially when it comes to handling the luggage of four people on a five-week vacation abroad.

But there are some disadvantages also.

For example, when we arrived in The Hague, Holand, George Hill, the chief chauffeur of our overseas expedition, found that he had neglected to leave with the German customs official at the border the proper ownership paper of the car he had purchased in Germany.

We learned from an official in the German embassy that it was necessary to return to the border and leave the paper or pay a high penalty for this oversight.

The choice was easy. With no strict timetable and on a limited budget, we retraced our steps and satisfied the methodical Germans.

This part of the report is being written aboard an English Channel auto ferry which is taking us from Ostend, Belgium to Dover, England, after eight days spent in Denmark, Germany, Holland and Belgium under ideal weather conditions. Even a topcoat so far has been unnecessary.

The crossing of the channel now makes the transportation cycle of our particular tour almost complete. Since leaving Campbell on Sept. 28, we have traveled by plane, train, private car and boat. All that is left is cycling--and, if the weather holds, we will probably try that before we leave England, for that mode of transportation in the countries we have just left seems to be the most popular of all.

Incidentally we saw the highly-rated German efficiency at its best when we picked up the cars at the Volkswagon factory in Wolfsburg, Germany.

It was a relief to get the cars at the huge, sprawling VW factory. It eliminated the awesome and awkward chore of wrestling five big pieces of luggage and numerous smaller ones from one destination to the next.

To get to the Volkswagon factory we emplaned early in the morning from the huge Templehof Airport in Berlin to Hannover where we transferred to the train that took us to Wolfsburg.

While Dorothy guarded the luggage on the station platform at Wolfsburg, the rest of us hiked the short distance to the factory. We picked up three cars; one that we would use on our tour and two that would be shipped from Bremen.

It took less than two hours to complete the processing at the factory. We picked Dorothy and the bags up and began our three-car caravan down the autobahm to Bremen, the shipping point, a distance of 130 miles.

Barbara Hill, driving the second car in our "convoy" became quite concerned when she noted by the road signs that we were heading for Hannover again, the place where we had boarded the train that morning. She pulled alongside the lead car and was reassured, after some arm-waving and shouting, that we were on the proper route.

Our convoy pulled into a parking lot across from the Lloyd Hotel in Bremen, as if we knew what we were doing. We spent the night at the Lloyd and the next morning turned two of the "bugs" into the shipping company with a minimum of red-tape and we were off again. This time all in one car--with our baggage.

The night was spent in Groningen, Holland. It was when we crossed the border into Holland that the slip was made on not leaving the proper paper with the customs official which later made necessary the short jaunt back to the border.

Groningen is a good-sized city (about 150,000) and hitting it at 5 p.m. reminded us of traffic at home at the same hour, except there were literally thousands of bikes intermixed with the furiously driven little foreign cars. Special indentations are put in the sidewalks where bikes can be parked and with the cyclists pedaling madly homeward the street corners looked like a sea of spinning wheels.

Driving through the Holland countryside is a pleasant experience. Canals, streams, well-kept farms and wooded areas dot the area. Off the main highways are parks where the weary tourist can pull into, eat lunch, nap or just relax.

The highway we traveled on the way to The Hague is built on the dam that bisects the Zuider Zee and the North Sea. The intricate locks that raise and lower the ships are spaced along the dam and the gawking tourists from California stopped to make a cursory examination of their operation.

The little VW was serviced in the town of Bergen, a hamlet off the beaten track. While the car was being serviced, we roamed the streets of the attractive residential streets, always intrigued by the manicured yards, the blooming flowers around the predominately brick homes.

We stayed at Hotel New Corner in The Hague. Here we again admired the combination of beauty of the natural state of vegetation that the people have preserved and the modern facilities of a city. Wooded areas spring up in the middle of habitation, making The Hague one of the most attractive cities in the world.

After our back-track to the nearest border from The Hague we skirted the huge cities of Antwerp and Brussels on our way to Ostend and the ferry that would take us across the channel to England.

We stayed overnight at Bruge, Belgium, off the main highway and went aboard the ferry at 9 a.m. on our way to England.

We were entranced by Bruges, a walled city of ancient buildings. Our rooms in the hotel were on the third floor. AND there were no "lifts". But bathrooms had been added to the rooms. Hotel Panier d'Or where we stayed was also the scene of the Lions Club dinner meeting. That brought us close to home.

But now on to England.

Scouts prepare for annual Good Turn Day

More than 16,000 Santa Clara County Boy Scouts are preparing for their ninth annual Good Turn Day for Goodwill Industries on Saturday, November 6.

Boy Scouts, Cubs and Explorers will be deployed throughout the county to collect donations of clothing and household articles.

Good Turn Day goal this year is 80,000 "units" to provide 160,000 hours of job training for the vocationally handicapped men and women served by Goodwill. A "unit" is one filled Goodwill bag or its equivalent in repairable furniture, electrical appliances or other household items.

The Santa Clara County unit of the California Trucking Association will again cooperate by providing trucks, which will be driven by volunteers from Teamsters Union Local 287.

Scouts will distribute Good Turn Day bags to homes and apartments on a county-wide basis by October 31, and will return to pick them up on November 6.
